Presentation of the European Spas Association

In Europe there are more than 1,200 spas and health resorts, which are medically respected health centers, and form a powerful economic unit generating significant proportions of the gross domestic product of European Union member countries.

The EU and those countries wishing to join are seeking to work together on matters of common interest. This requires a greater co-operation of the national and regional associations as well as the private sector in the field of spas and balneology.

The European Spa Association's objective is to promote spas and balneology in Europe and to take care that the natural remedies based on mineral water, landscape and climate will be available to as great a number of citizens and visitors as possible.

The European Spas Association is an umbrella organization representing 20 members from 19 European countries.
